

To define the responsibility for, and use of, University Corporate Credit Cards. Tuskegee University staff members who are responsible for purchasing goods/services or those who travel regularly may be issued with a Corporate Credit Card with the approval of the President and CFO.

: Holding a University Corporate Credit Card involves responsibility for appropriate business use. Misuse of credit cards will result in revocation and may result in the University taking disciplinary action against the cardholder.

All cards are issued subsequent to the submission of the University Business Card application and the card usage may be audited and/or rescinded at any time. The cardholder, in whose name the card is issued, is responsible for all charges placed on this card. The use of credit cards is not intended to avoid or bypass appropriate procurement procedures, but is to be used in accordance with the guidelines established within Tuskegee University to complement existing procurement and payment procedures. When purchasing using a credit card, the cardholder must adhere to the principles of the Purchasing.

This policy applies to any staff involved in the ownership, operation, supervision, management or administration of University Corporate Credit Cards.

To be eligible for a University Corporate Credit Card, a staff member must:

- hold the delegation of authority to commit or incur expenditure
- be a permanent member of Tuskegee University staff
- purchase significant volumes of minor goods and services for use by the University
- OR incur regular frequent expenses of a kind appropriately paid by credit card
- OR travel frequently in the course of their duties
- be willing to accept the conditions of use stipulated by the University.

A University Corporate Credit Card must only be used for business purposes.
